

29th SIEPM Annual International Colloquium Chaos and order in Medieval Philosophy

September 3rd to 5th, 2025
Ciudad de Buenos Aires, Argentina

Second circular

The 29th Annual International Colloquium of the SIEPM (Société Internationale pour l'Étude de la Philosophie Médiévale) will take place between September 3rd and 5th, 2025 at the Faculty of Philosophy Literature of the Pontifical Catholic University of Argentina (UCA). The topic will be: Chaos and Order in Medieval Philosophy.

Topic of the Colloquium

We invite the national and international academic community to submit their abstracts on the following topics:

- Cosmogonic and cosmological chaos and order
- Physical and natural chaos and order
- Ethical and moral chaos and order
- Political and institutional chaos and order
- Logical and epistemic chaos and order
- Psychic and intellectual chaos and order

These are just some of the multiple approaches and authors in which the opposition "chaos-order" has been philosophically worked on. We have attempted to summarize the diverse notions from which medieval authors have developed their ideas regarding an antagonistic binomial in any of the medieval traditions.
